WE MAY NEVER PASS THIS WAY (AGAIN)

Life–so they say
Is but a game and they let it slip away
Love–like the Autumn sun
Should be dying but it's only just begun
Like the twilight in the road up ahead
They don't see just where we're goin'
And all the secrets in the universe
Whisper in our ears and all the years will come
And go
And take us up always up

We may never pass this way again
We may never pass this way again
We may never pass this way again

Dreams–so they say
Are for the fools and they let them drift away
Peace–like the silent dove
Should be flyin' but it's only just begun
Like Columbus in the olden days
We must gather all our courage
Sail our ships out on the open sea
Cast away our fears and all the years will come
And go
And take us up–always up

We may never pass this way again
We may never pass this way again
We may never pass this way again

So I wanna laugh while the laughin' is easy
I wanna cry if it makes it worthwhile
I may never pass this way again
That's why I want it with you
'Cause you make me feel like I'm more than a friend
Like I'm the journey and you're the journey's end
I may never pass this way
That's why I want it with you baby

We may never pass this way again
We may never pass this way again
We may never pass this way again
We may never pass this way again

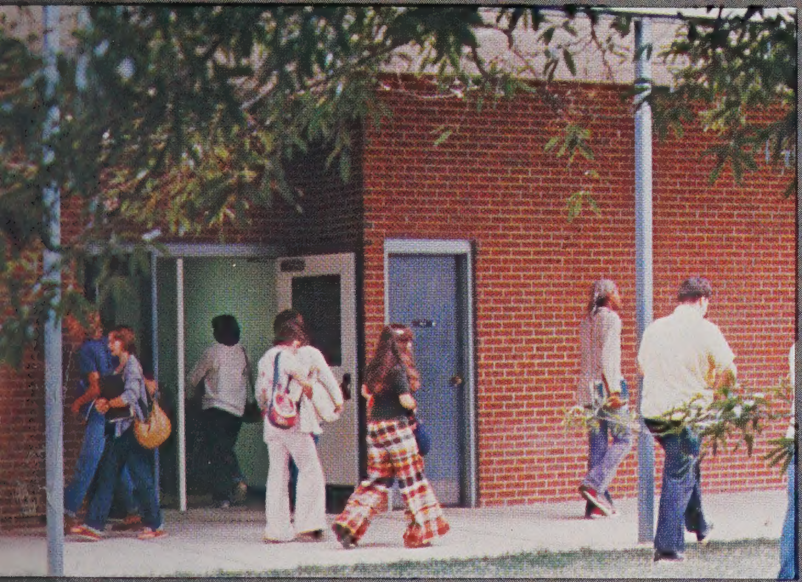
HIGH SCHOO

LIFE



Often too fast, often too slow, high school moves by in a cloudy swirling potpourri of memories—memories of good times, heartbreak, hard work, and joy. This annual is a memory book. Years in the future you may pick up this book, thumb through yellowed pages and wonder if your hair was really that long or if you were really in love with him; and a smile will come, and this book will have fulfilled its purpose.

High school is indeed a complex time. Childhood is fleeting swiftly and maturity arrives slowly. It is a time of experimenting, breaking new ground, questioning old values, gaining new knowledge—not only knowledge from textbooks, but practical knowledge of everyday life and how to live it. Most of this practical knowledge comes through interaction with other people, as it will in life, because like it or not, there are about three and a half billion other people out there. And these people are as diverse and different as there are differences and divergencies. And in these differences lies a whole education for us, the education of a lifetime. Since we are limited in the number of persons we come in contact with, each new acquaintance should be looked on as a challenge to gain as much and to give as much as we possibly can in our time.

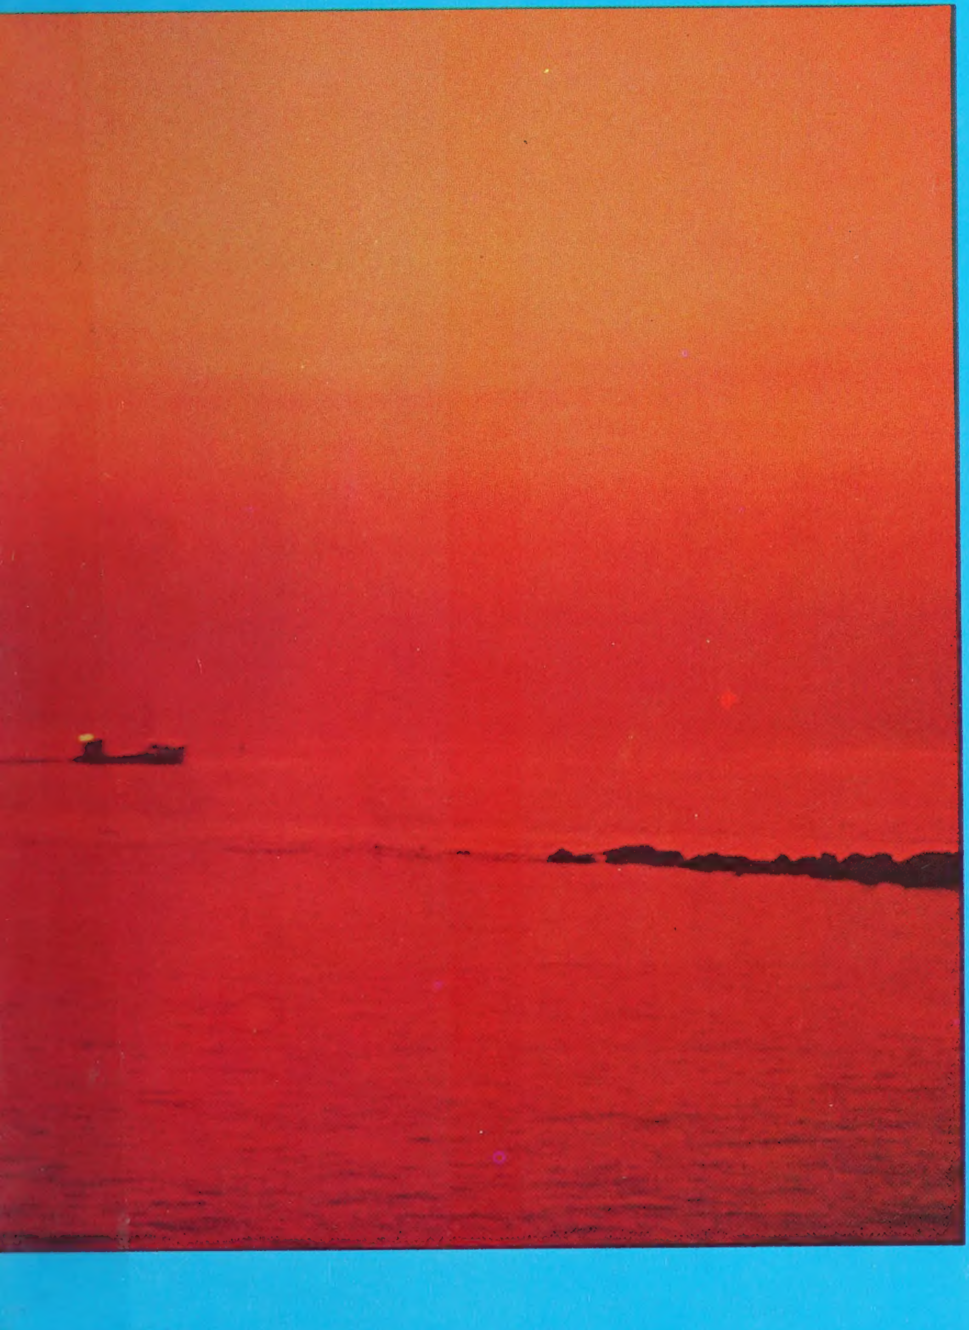
Each of us will spend the most time with himself and hence should know himself best. High school is for many of us

LOVE



DREAMS

the jumping-off place for free thought and exploration. Through interaction with others we gain new insight into ourselves and what we are like. For years many things have been drilled into us—the value of material possessions, religion, victorian ideas of life. Now it is up to us to sort out our own beliefs, to weigh the evidence and decide for ourselves what we want out of life. Through this process of selfdiscovery, we find out where our dreams lie. Dreams are what we work toward to fulfill ourselves. And whatever our dreams are, we have to battle for them with every resource we have. Whether it be walking in the woods enjoying the crunch of leaves and the aroma of honeysuckle or blasting to the moon in a rocket, each of us has every right to his dreams.

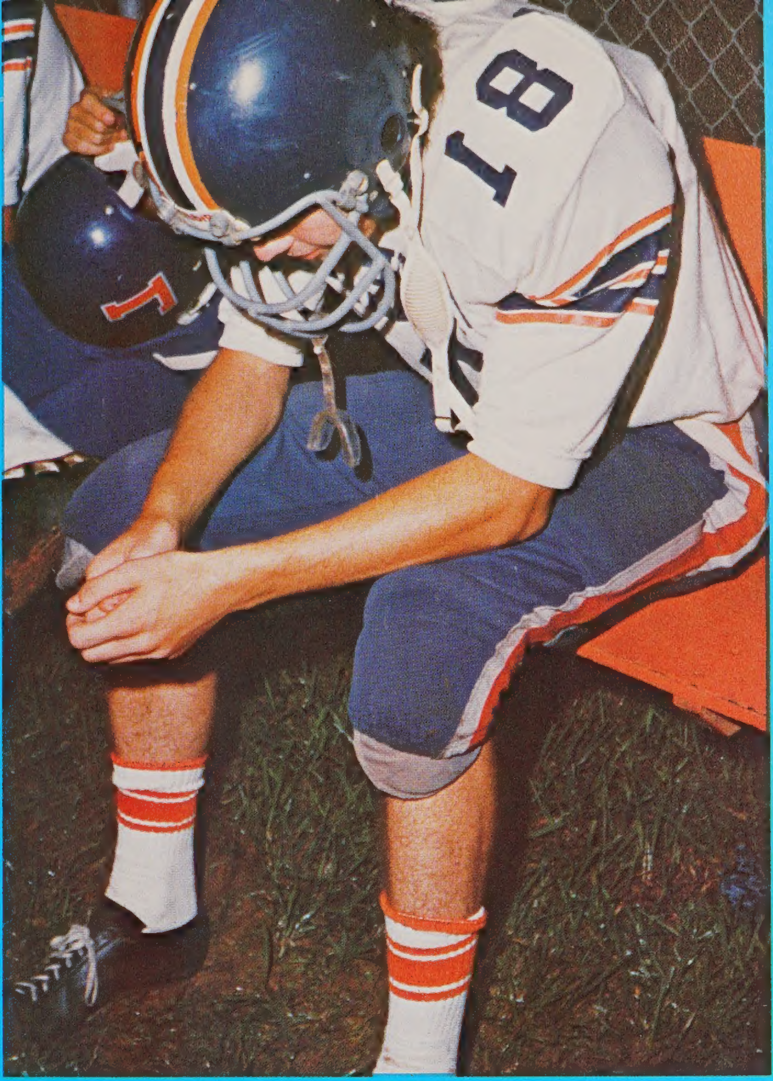
To work for dreams and to realize them brings peace of mind. Peace is like a stream flowing through a green meadow, splashing silvery water on stones. Peace is freedom, and freedom is being at peace with ourselves. Our peace may be enjoying a beautiful fiery sunset or listening to an explosive rock concert. Its nature is our choice because we have only ourselves to answer to.

PEACE

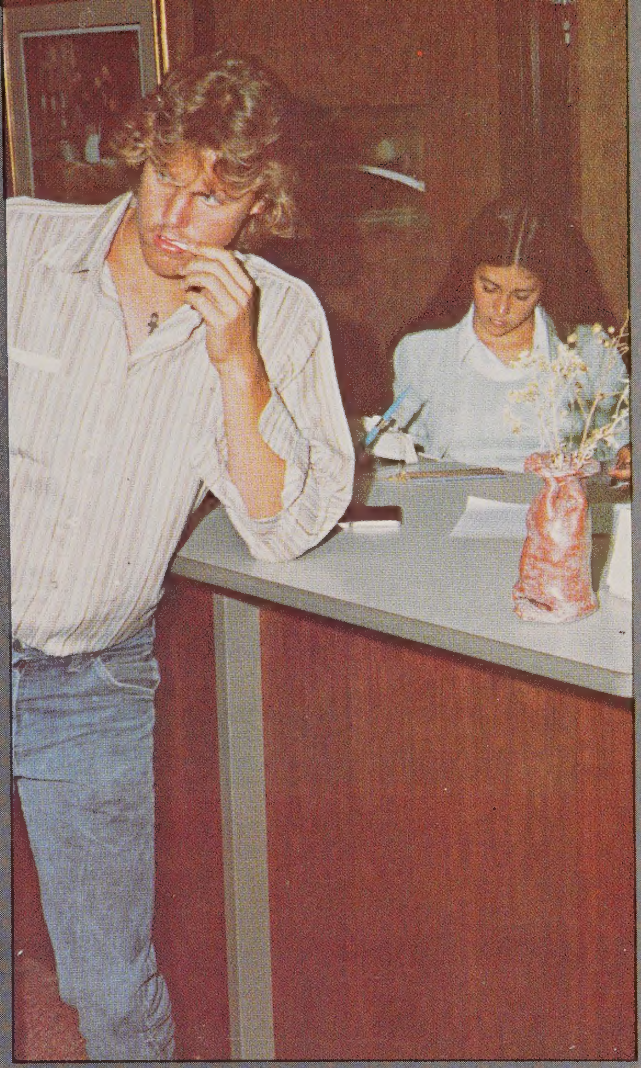
There is no sure formula for happiness. No one can guarantee us a happy life. Our best bet is to meet life head-on and to swing for all we're worth. We must believe in ourselves and be prepared to show where we stand and what we stand for. We mustn't be afraid to let our feelings out. If you feel it, laugh! If you feel it, cry. Laugh until you cry and cry until you laugh. It's the same release—because only through sorrow can we know joy and only through hard times

LAUGHTER



TEARS

WE MAY NEVER PASS



THIS WAY AGAIN

can we know good times. Most of all, do what you know is right. Make your life work for you; use your mistakes to learn; let each experience build on another to increase your knowledge. High school is a starting place. Let us use the opportunity it offers and remember our past, because our past is what makes our future. This book is a memory book. Look back and be happy.

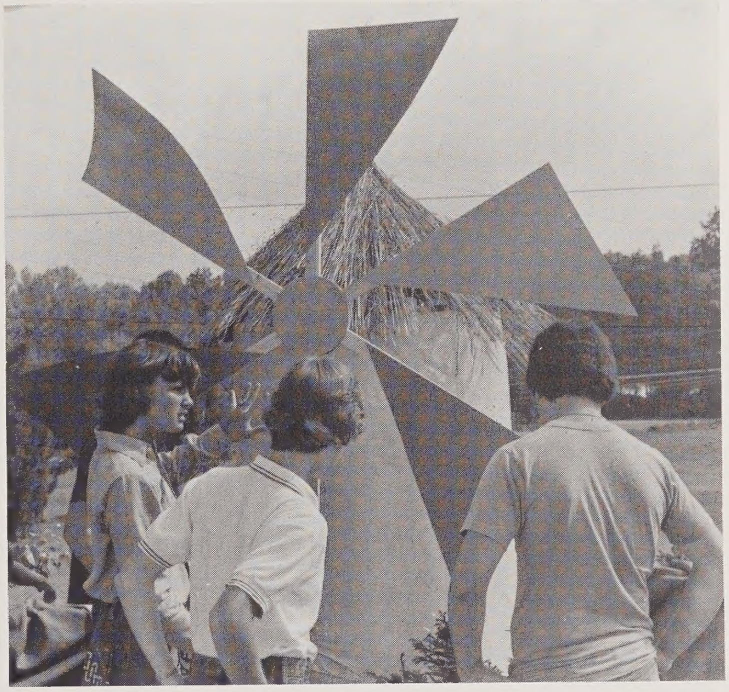
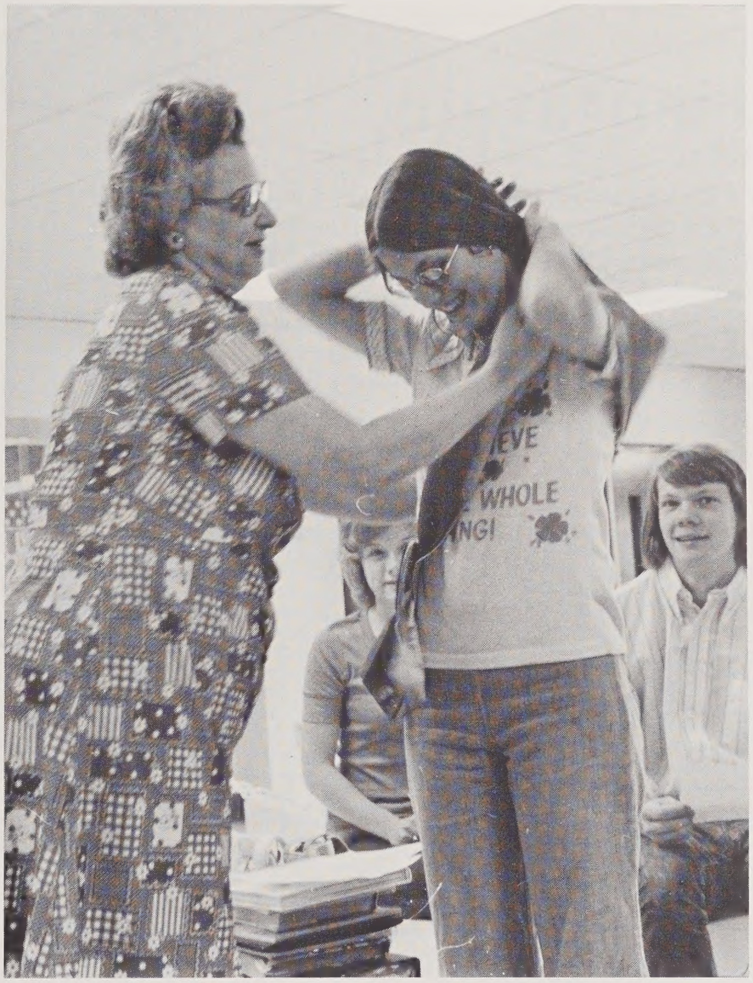
Greek Odyssey

Girls garbed in flowing gowns, guys clad in three-inch clogs and even a few decked out teachers were jamming to the music of Crossfire at the '75 Junior-Senior. The great music kept people dancing to such songs as "Jesus Is Just Alright" and "Free Bird", until they nearly dropped from heat and exhaustion. After stepping out and guzzling a few cups of punch, couples returned for more jamming. The theme, The Greek Odyssey, was carried out through loads of flowers and a windmill out on the patio. Pictures were taken beneath a rock-covered trellis. Moans filled the club when the band played its finale for it had been a gala night.



GraduationGraduationGraduationGradu

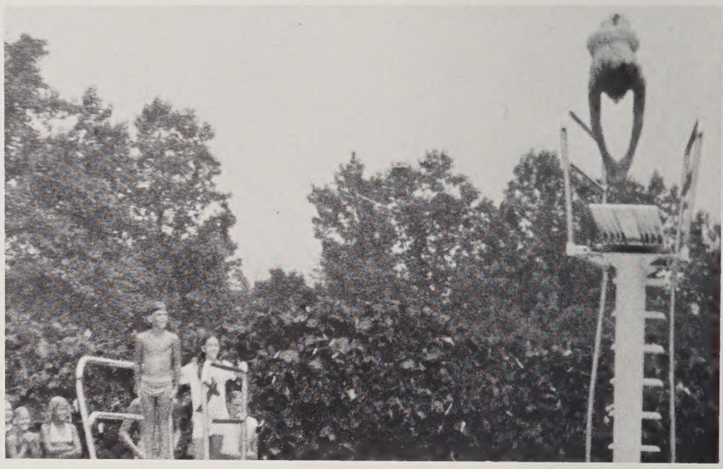
nGraduationGraduationGraduation

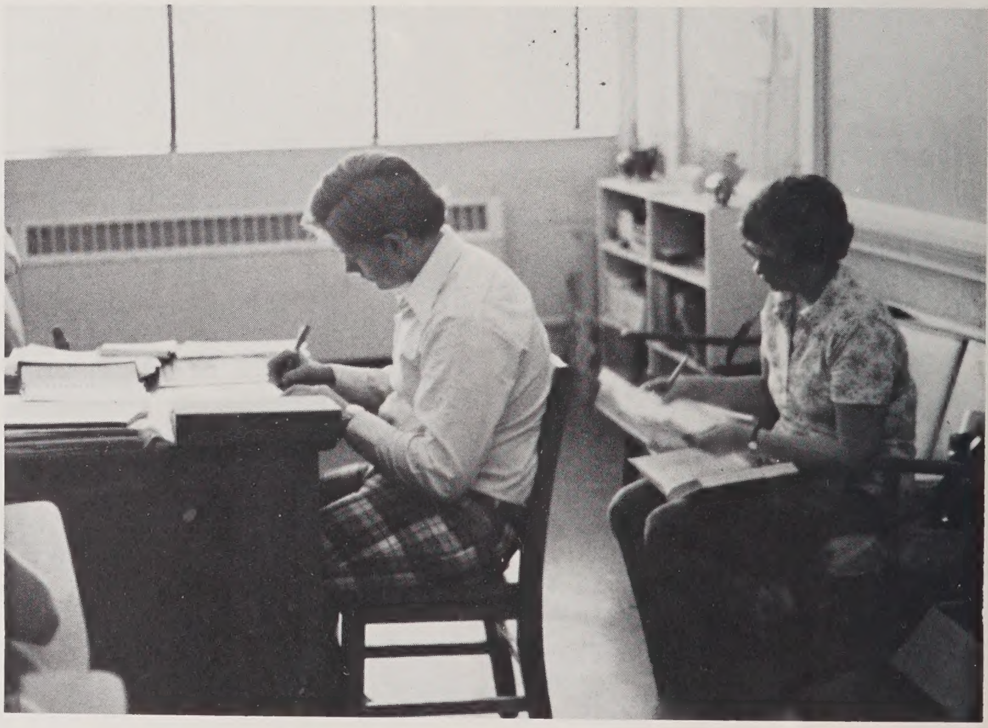


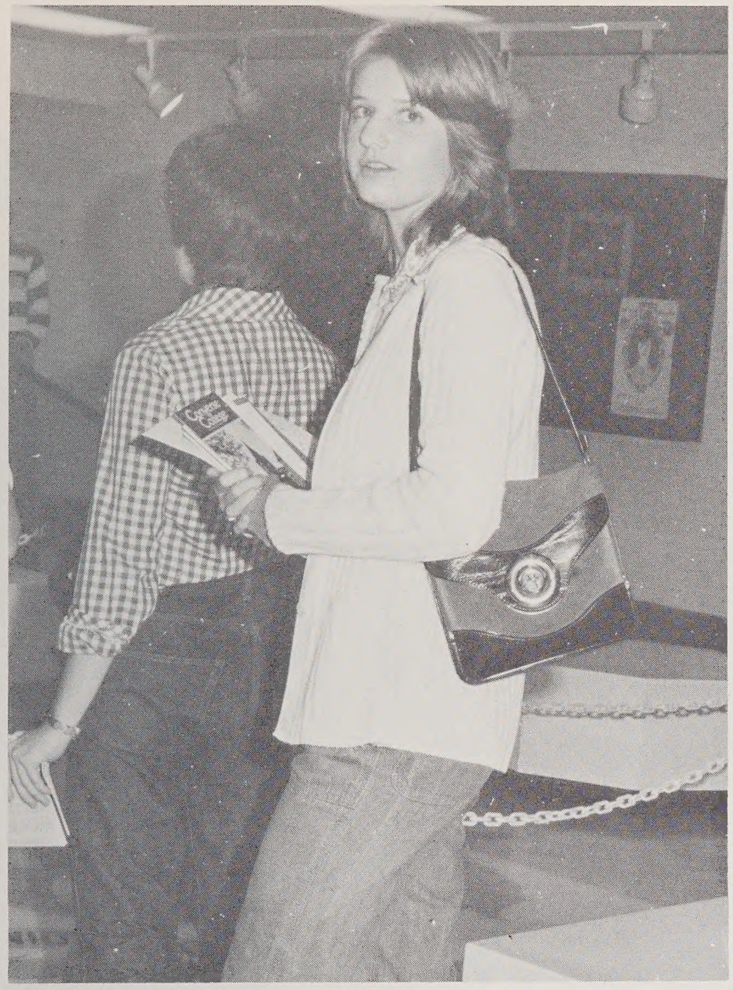
Graduation finally arrived! A sense of pride and a sense of loss was felt during the Graduation ceremony. Many eyes were filled with tears. The Seniors were glad to graduate, but at the same time one could feel the sadness. Our proud students held their heads high while waiting to receive the prize for twelve years of hard work—the diploma. They had grumbled all year long about how difficult their classes were, but the smiles on their faces showed all the long hours of study to be justified. After the ceremony, everyone enjoyed hugging and congratulating the future leaders of the world. Graduation was truly a time of joy and sadness.

Orientation

This year orientation meant suffering to students and faculty in more ways than one. Summer refused to relinquish its hold to buses, halls, and classrooms as school opened to record-breaking highs. Students were forced to "sweat-it-out" because the haven of an air-conditioned media center was closed during the preliminary days of school. "Hallelujas" and "amens" were sung as announcements of early dismissal were heard, and students were able to trade fifth and sixth periods for homemade iced tea and fresh dips in the pool.

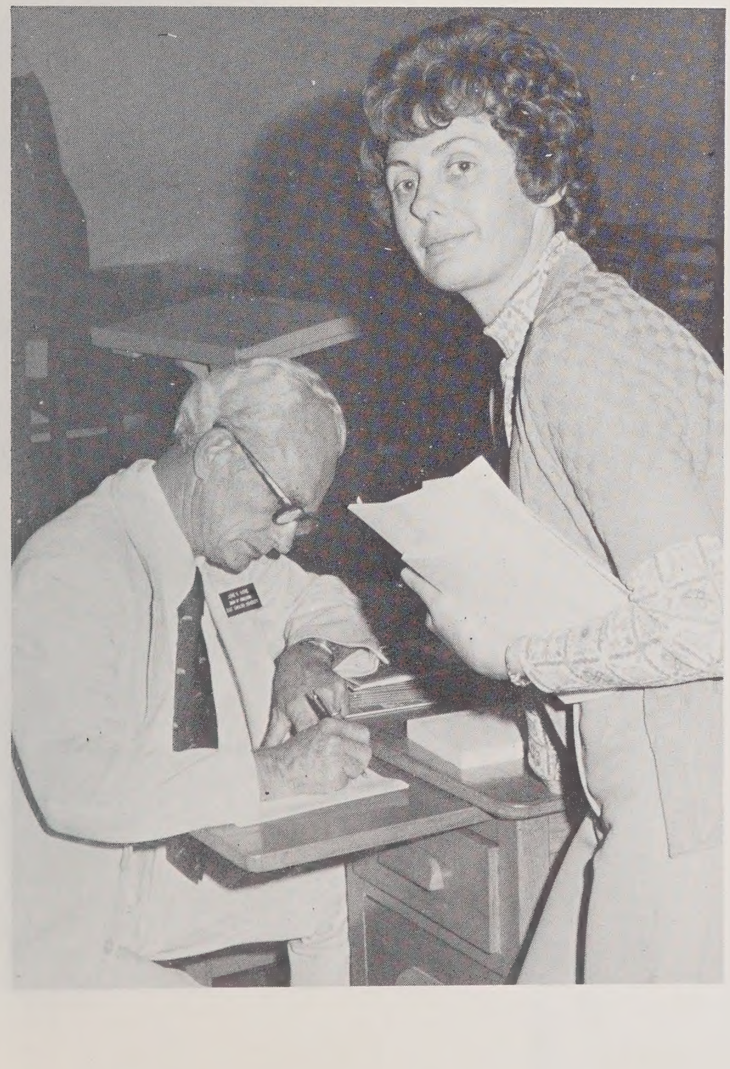


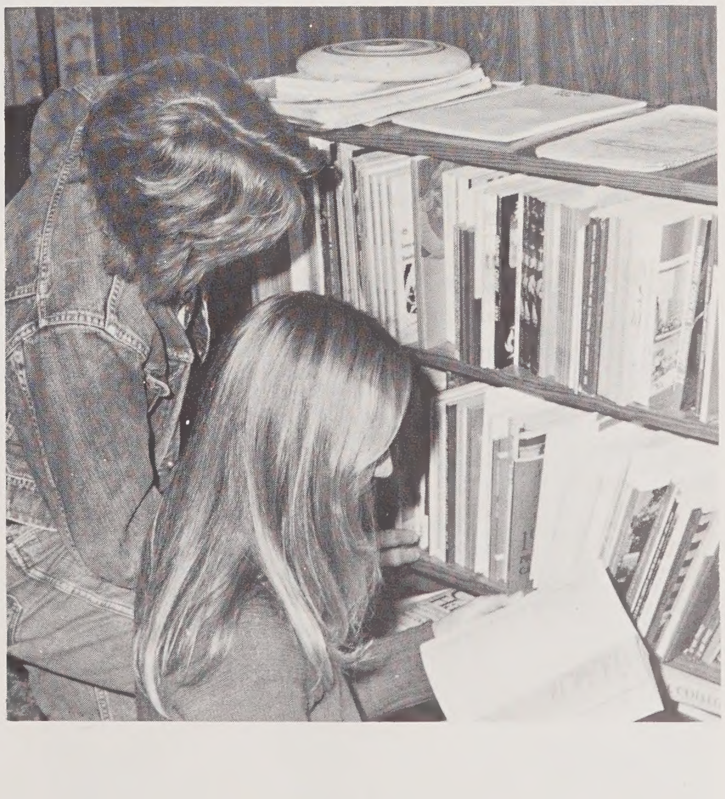




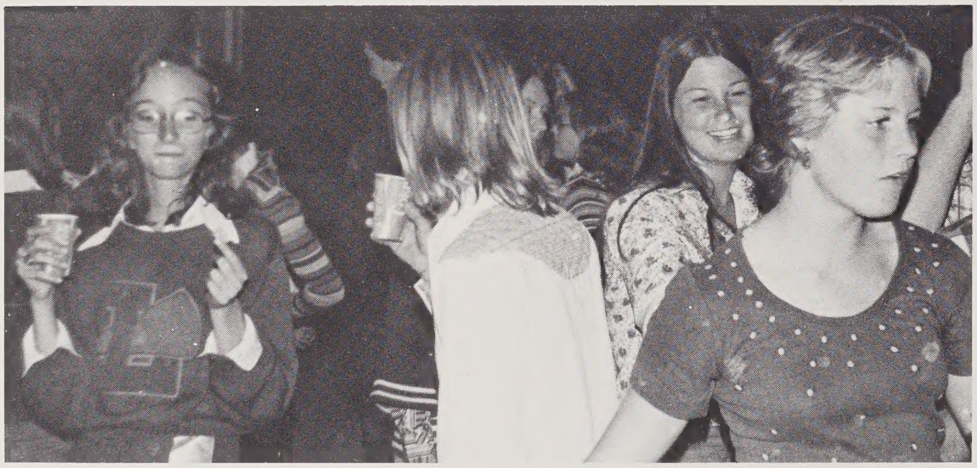
College Night

Though it was raining on college night, many students from our school and nearby county schools dropped in at LSHS to enjoy punch and chocolate chip cookies and/or to chat with representatives from 32 colleges. These representatives discussed with them such topics as scholarships at UNC-CH, independent studies at Duke, Christianity and culture at St. Andrews, skiing at Appalachian—all aspects of college life which interest prospective students.

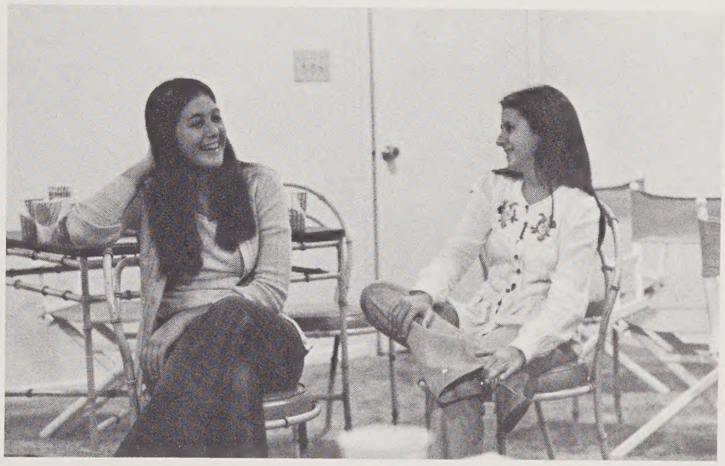




Monday Tuesday Wednesday Thursday FRIDAY SATU



RDAY SUNDAY Monday Tuesday Wednesday Thursday



A bore, a bust, a bash, a ball, or a blast–no matter how you describe it, everyone looks forward to the weekend. Weekends provide excitement, relaxation, free time and boredom. To escape the weekend life in Lexington, the "Ski Team" took advantage of semester break to get some practice on the slopes of Sugar Mountain. For the other prospective athletes, weekends mean ice skating at Hyatt House, roller skating in Lakewood Hills, perfecting the art of frisbee–throwing and participating in a friendly game of football at Walser's field. Dancing has been revived and LSH students have made up a few steps of their own. Dances and parties are weekend specialities, and if all else fails, you can always "hustle" on up to the Loose Boodie or the Charlie Brown Disco. While dating is still around, most students prefer just to spend their weekends on the town with friends. A small minority continue to sit at home doing homework in front of the T.V.

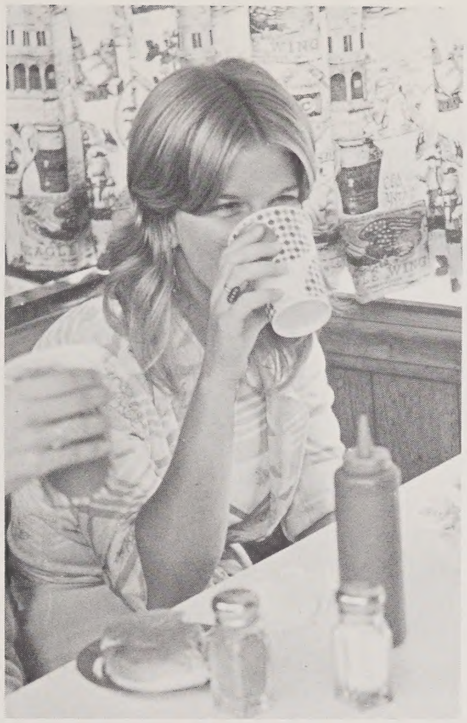
Senior High Alma Mater

Our school alma mater was designed to create a warm relationship between students within our school. We experienced a feeling of togetherness when we sang our school song. Mr. Mull and Mrs. Welborn helped us to achieve harmony within our homerooms, and with the aid of the True Tones, the whole student body brought it together. We realized the true reward of the Lexington Senior High Alma Mater when we showed our respect and appreciation for the football team by serenading our guys after each game—win or lose.



LUNCH

Each year, students look forward to one wonderful facet of school life—lunch. This year, lunch became especially great because of the extended time allowed by the new one-period lunch. Students were able to dine with the gang at the Monk or Southern Lunch, to brown bag or plate lunch quickly in the cafeteria, or just to study hungrily in the Media Center. Kathy Mashburn loves the new lunch schedule because, "There are more people to borrow money from." Most students are pleased with the new lunch, which, as Eulah Lanier plainly says, "Lets us be with all of our friends."

During the second week of October, LHSH experienced a series of events quite different from the regular school routine. As usual, Homecoming Week is that special time of year to dress up in your best clothes for Tacky Day, starve the entire week in order to eat the most suckers, literally "deck the halls", and most of all, show your school colors. David "Firecracker" Ochoa led cheers, while the First Annual Homecoming King Pageant showed LSHS its real beauties (and talent!). Mr. Cranford also looked on the week as exciting.

As Homecoming Week came to an end and the banners and exhibits were frantically put together and ready to display, the Seniors took control and came out on top. The outcome of the Powder Puff game was one thrown out and seven injured. Ellen Easter cheers for the underdogs as the acrobatic male squad pulls for the Seniors. The real excitement came, however, when Friday finally arrived.

Those who contend that femininity is being destroyed by the Woman's Rights movements need only to look at LSHS's beauty queens, their loveliness is mute evidence that girls still are decorative and femine.

Missy competed for Miss Davidson County at the fair amid cheers from school supporters. Jane was radiant in the Veteran's Day Parade after bringing home a first-runner-up title. Representing Lexington in the Thanksgiving Day Parade, Jean Mauze was our lovely Carousel Queen. A lady of beauty, charm, and grace, Nikita made everyone's Christmas a merrier one.

ON THE JOB

Many Senior High students participate on the ICT program or have afternoon part-time jobs. Here Patty, Evernee and Nikita fry up some finger-lickin' chicken for Colonel Saunders. Lu and Murray help you with your groceries at Heffners'. At Bonanza, Ricky takes over for Cathy while she enjoys one of the fringe benefits of the job. Defending Huskies and fries, Gail takes her post against the "big mouths" at Hardee's. All over town students from Lexington Senior High try their abilities in the business world.

Macbeth Did It....

Who did it? MACBETH DID IT, or so says the title of the play presented by the Lexington High Drama Society. Thinking back on the characters portrayed by Kris Boggess, Shelley Blomquist, Eric Frazier, and the rest of the cast, many students remember a night of side-splitting laughter. With such names as Dixie Delaney (Joni Walser), Duke Marlboro (Jeff Brown), and Emerson Stillwater Doolittle Dibble (Mark Marley), the play was a success. Who can forget the witch with a runny nose and crooked teeth (Pam Hinshaw) or the attempted murder of Rodrigues (Tim McCree)? Let's just hope that Larry (Tom Skipper) and Jill (Betty Ann Byerly) finally made it to the altar.

When we were in the third grade, our teacher gave a lesson on homonymns. Two words she wanted us to distinguish between were "principle" and "principal". She told us one way to recall the difference was to remember our school principal as our pal. Now in high school our principal, Mr. LeGette is just that—a pal.

Mr. Moody, our vice-principal, is another very important person in our lives at L.S.H.S. Everybody's friend, he is especially attentive to his crew of bus drivers, and always in the background are those students with special problems.

The policies of Mr. Niven, Superintendent of Public Schools, and Mr. Leonard, Assistant Superintendent, provide the secure base on which L.S.H.S. operates.

Faculty • Staff • Faculty • Staff • Faculty • Staff •

The ever increasing faculty at LSHS has acquired new faces, new ideas, and new curricular courses. Our specialized courses at LSHS caused classes ranging from a three-person French IV class to the maximum capacity P.E. classes. We have acquired a new salamander in the Science Department, and spent time translating our Alma Mater into either Spanish or French with daily contests between the departments arousing enthusiasm. Mathematics has changed somewhat since Mr. Rhodes's students have learned how to build fences and make wine. Other math classes have spent their spare time hunting for "neufors" or having backward classes because of the songbirds. The Gatsby Party during homecoming week with classy swingers Jane Tyree and Meg Musgrave, the major production of ANDROCLES AND THE LION with Mr. Cranford as the lion, and Kelly Timberlake as the central character in the kissing scenes in Mrs. Lewis' plays have kept the English hall alive. In the Vocational Education Department the girls Comprehensive Home Ec. class and the boys Apartment Living class have cooked gourmet dishes, but one lab produced flat, hard biscuits when the baking powder was omitted. Not only did Mr. Griffith instruct his classes on our nation's independence, but also on Henry VIII chasing his bikini-clad chicks. And if you thought you heard the Norman Tabernacle Choir, it was probably Miss Slate's 2nd period singing "Silent Night." All this seems minor though when we remember that Distributive Education, host for several district groups, really presented a bride in full, white dress, train, and veil.

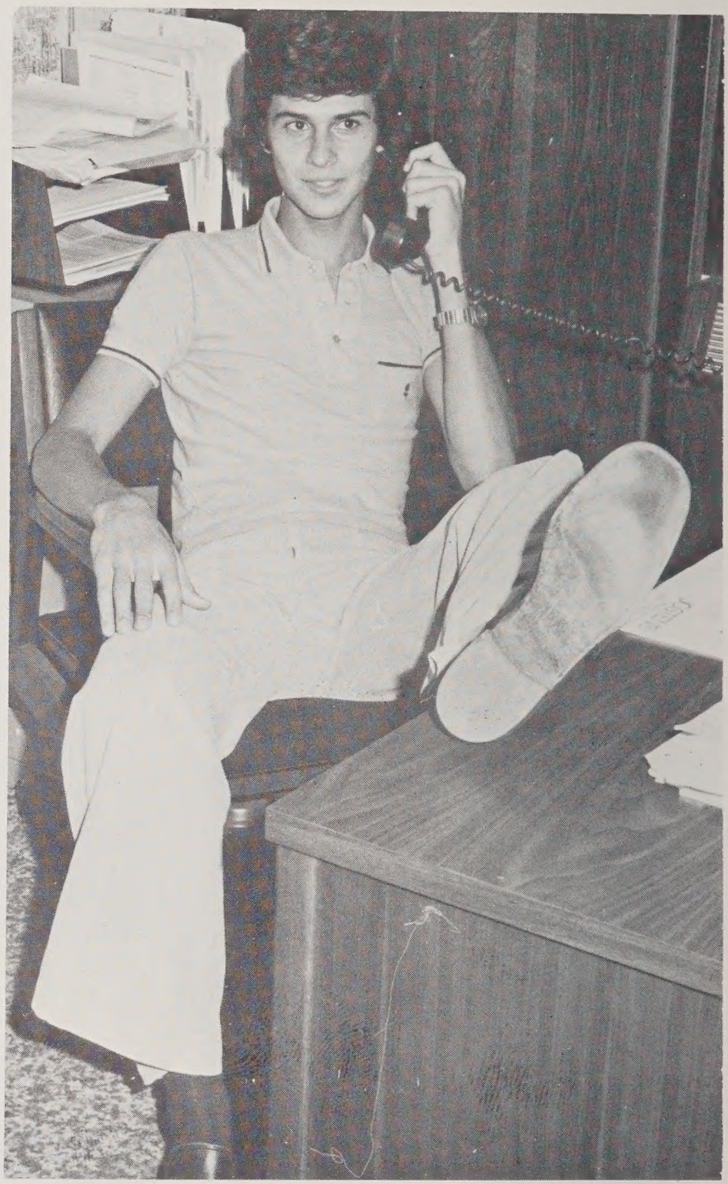
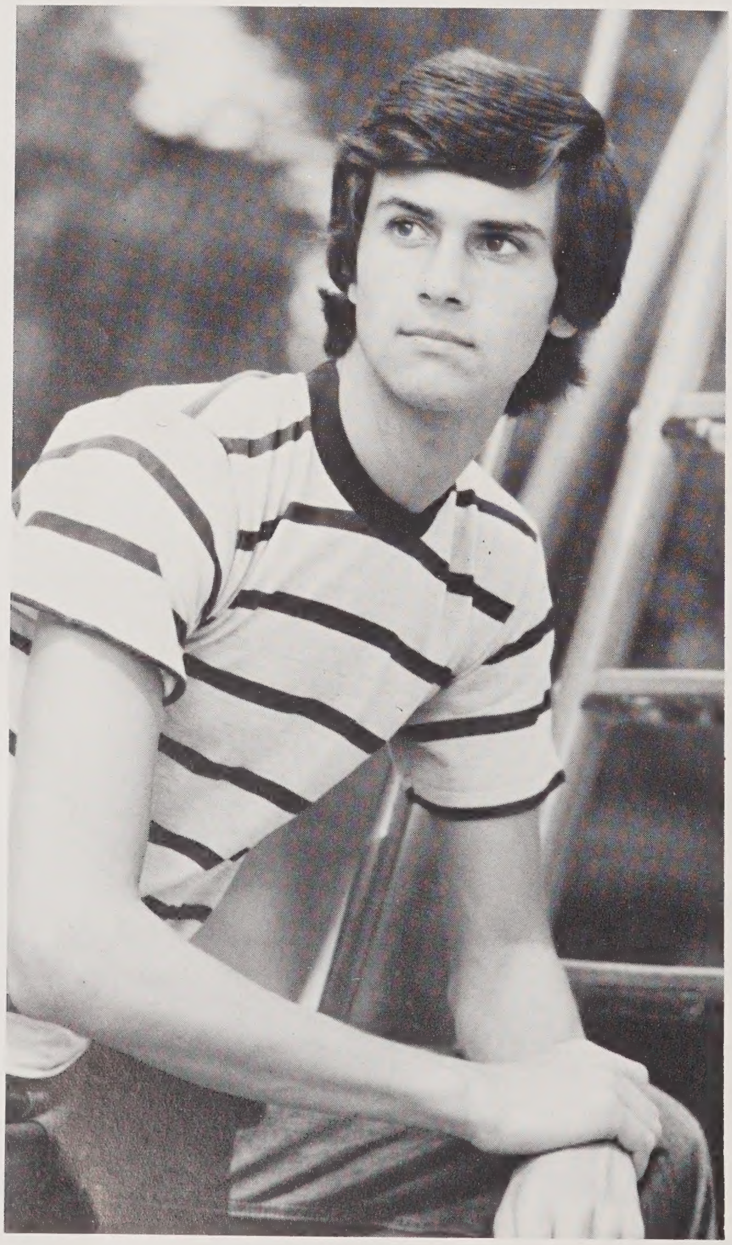
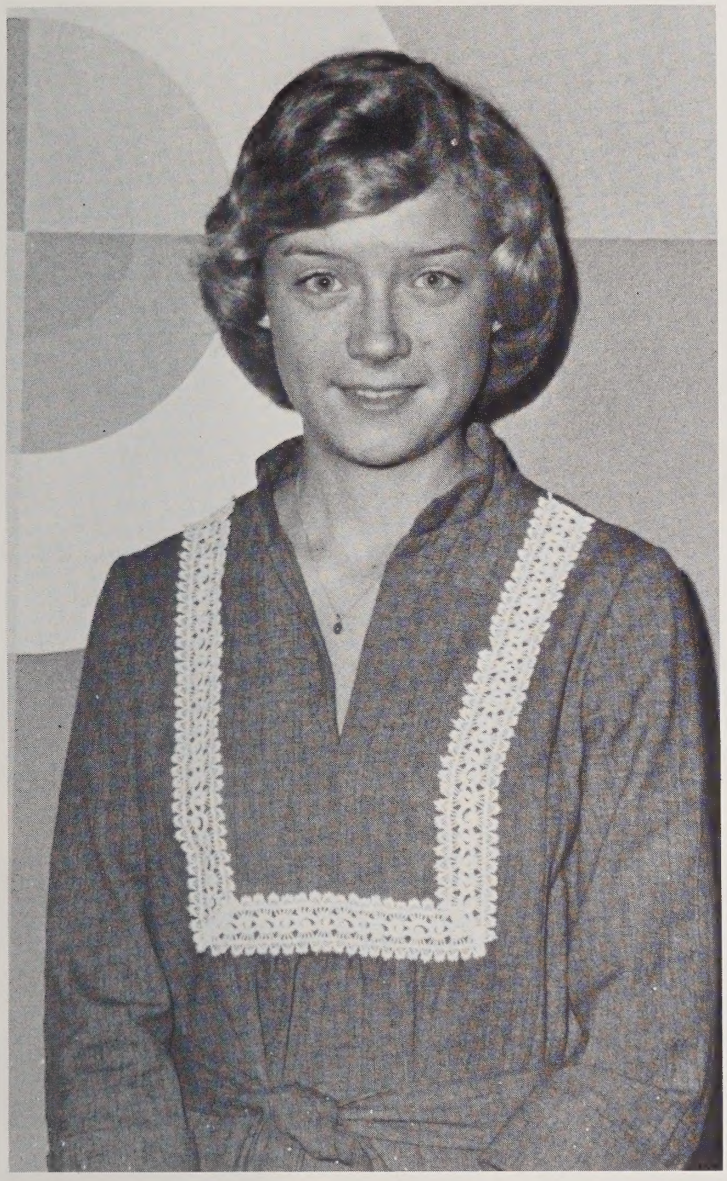
Foreign Exchange Student

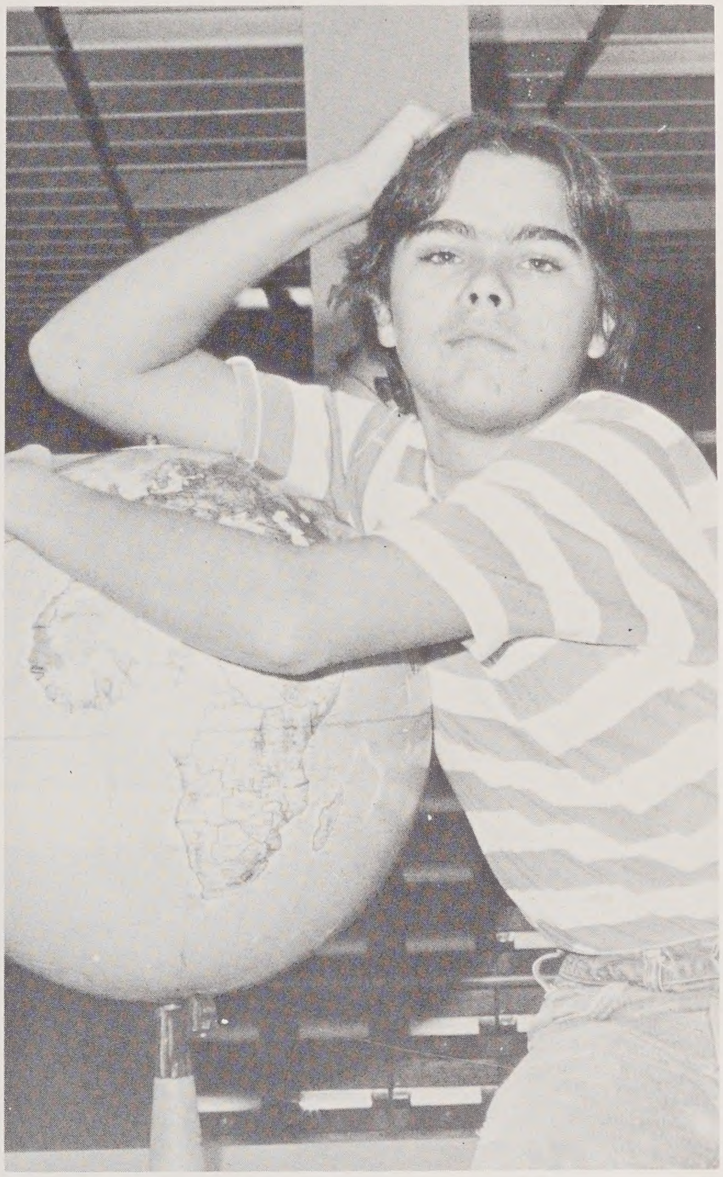
Marcos Nogueira Destro is Lexington Senior High's foreign exchange student for the school year 1975-76. Marcos' American family is the Jack Calvert's. He is from Mococa, Sao Paulo, Brazil. With his dark hair, dark eyes, and charming smile, Marcos is very popular with all the girls at LSHS. While in Lexington he enjoys playing basketball and eating chocolate pie. We will cherish the memories of this year's friendship.





And Senior Ambassadors





Tom Skipper spent his summer as Lexington Senior High School's foreign exchange student. He traveled to Italy where he stayed with a young AFS family for the month of July. In August Tom camped in the Alps. While abroad he enjoyed the old Italian custom of pinching rear ends and the Alpine hikes in the snow.

Roger Farabee and Joan Brafford were representatives to Boys' State and Girls' State last summer. They both participated in a political workshop which studied government on a state and local level. Roger rubbed shoulders with Jim Holshouser and other political officials while Joan had the privilege of escorting Edmundston to make a speech. Both had a summer well-spent.

Twas the first day of high school
The sophomores did dread,
While visions of duckponds
Danced in their heads.

Their lockers were stacked
With books everywhere,
Hoping the Osmonds
Would soon hang there.

Although they are new
No one could tell,
Because they have adjusted
So very well.

The bus drivers were on duty again this year, performing a job which Tim McCarn described as a constant responsibility and challenge. Early in the fall, the members enjoyed the chance to visit the State Fair, and Christmas was celebrated by a Rib-eye luncheon at Bonanza. For their spring activity, the club planned another meal which was a last chance to get together.

AFS

During LSHS's homecoming week, the members of the American Field Service Club showed an active participation in decorating the visitor's ticket booth. In October the club sponsored the annual AFS weekend. Foreign students from surrounding high schools came to Lexington and were honored at two parties given by club members. In order to present many aspects of Italy and Brazil, Joan Brafford, the club president, organized many of the monthly programs including a slide presentation by Tom Skipper and a sing-along by Marcos Destro.

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders did not have a football team to cheer for, but their presence and enthusiasm was felt and heard during the pep rallies. Since there was not a team, they had more time left to experiment and practice new cheers. Beverly Knotts rated cheerleading as "just great." While Gerrie Hairston said "We had fun all the year and enjoyed cheering for the basketball team." These girls were real boosters with their enthusiasm, cheer and spirit. Miss Woods, the sponsor, summed up the feeling of being a cheerleader as "exciting."

The Forensic Union's year was filled with many successful projects. Besides organizing and presenting pantomine programs for deaf children, the club also participated in many speech and debate tournaments in the state. The Forensic Union supported entries into the Women's Club Arts Festival, the Fine Arts Festival, and the Optimist Club Oratorical Contest. To help supplement funds, the club held a "windshield wash" for schoolmates. The Forensic year was highlighted with a covered dish supper during Christmas.

French Club

The French Club started the year by claiming a first place award on its homecoming booth. "Libby," the club's own Statue of Liberty, stood on top. Each of the club's meetings featured a program related to France. French music, plays, games, and a puppet show were some of the programs. The club also sponsored many outside activities such as a fondue supper, a picnic, and French caroling. The money-making project this year was the successful selling of stationery and cards.

Through its ability to help students lead others, conduct organized meetings and influence peers successfully, the VICA organization placed well in our own school as well as the state. District V President Paul Thomas led the State District V Leadership Workshop on October 15, with the help of their Treasurer Jo McCombs and Senior High President Ned Cowan. The VICA organization realized great achievement in local as well as state areas.

Keyettes

The Keyettes, under the guidance of Mrs. Garrabrant, had a very busy year. Their money-raising projects included selling goblin insurance and flower bouquets. This money was used for service projects such as making Thanksgiving baskets for the patients at the Golden Age Home and sponsoring a needy family at Christmas. Other activities were the "Send a Mouse to College" Campaign, "The Ugliest Boy Contest," and volunteer work with the welfare department.

Key Club

The Key Club began its year by teaching the sophomores the club song and working on the homecoming banner at Gregg Strader's house. Key Club members expect much work. Some of their projects for this year were parking cars at the fair, selling license plates, and sponsoring the blood drive. However, the guys are well rewarded for their efforts. They get to eat dinner at Kiwanas and have joint suppers with the Keyettes.

Each year the Hi I Q Bowl Team is sponsored by the National Honor Society. Several teachers select the members of the team according to their general knowledge in the areas of science, geography, math, history, humanities, English, and current events. After three long nights of competition the following students were chosen from forty aspirants: Jim Lockwood, Tom Skipper, Eddie Huneycutt, Roger Stallings, and Roger Farabee, with Mike Perry and Jane Tyree as substitutes. Five weeks of preparations for the first round qualifiers in Greensboro were made with help from Harold and Mildred Ann. The honor and pride of LSHS was invested in these who knew that SUMMA THEOLOGIA was written by St. Thomas Aquinas.

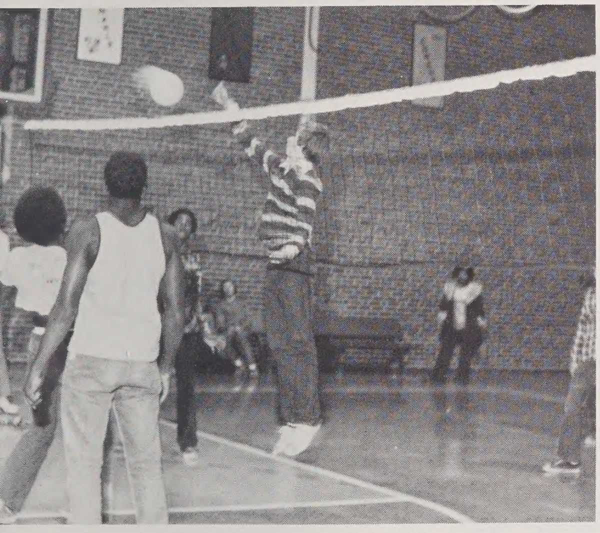
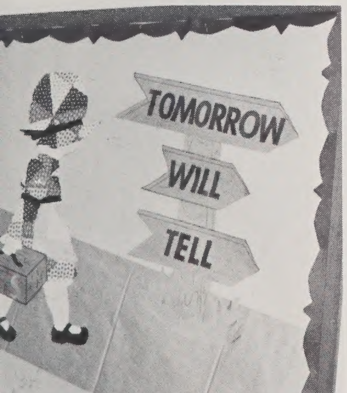
Our Activities





The sights and sounds around campus are familiar to every student. Many escape the drudgery of note-taking and tests during the school day by rapping with friends between classes. In the lobby a student feels secure with the rumble of chatter even if the decibels are greatly increased at times. Solitude is found in front of a locker or in a corner of the media center. Even losers win when it comes to a free game of volleyball. The ultimate end, however, is never escaped, and we soon find ourselves back in the classrooms.

Varsity Cheerleaders

The 1975-76 L.H.S. Varsity Cheerleading squad kept up the tradition of spreading spirit and enthusiasum throughout the school. Their sponsor, Mrs. Widenhouse, feels that cheerleading was a way of life for the girls. Loretta Barrett and Robyn Russell saw it more as a learning experience, but no matter how the girls felt, they did a great job backing the teams and stirring up fan support. They also demonstrated their own physical ability by doing dance routines to such songs as "The Hustle" during pep rallies. Pam Lanning, the chief, summed up her feelings (and probably those of the squad) in three words: "I loved it."

Under the direction of new head coach, Ed Hiatt, The Yellow Jacket football team posted an outstanding record of 8-3. The record was a product of much physical exertion which started during the early weeks of August at football camp. Although most critics of the Jackets predicted a poor season, Scott Ragan insisted they never were that bad to begin with. The obstacle that separated them from first was a dramatic last second play by the Concord Spiders; however the football team did gain a spot in the SPC playoffs at the end of the season. The offensive punch was supplied by Johnny Walser, Robert Brown, Mark Hess, and Scott Ragan. Working in the pits were Mickey Prosser, James King, and Joey Browder among others. Some of the standouts on defense were Moe Bennett, Richard Strader, Bennie Finney, Caleb Holt, and Jonathan Holt. Leroy Dawkins added a new dimension to Yellow Jacket football by kicking field goals and extra points. Danny Fuller handled the punting chore. Injuries were ever present on the Jacket squad; Johnny Walser played part of the season with a broken thumb and sore shoulders, but insisted that these injuries did not hamper his running. The Jacket's success was largely due to Coach Hiatt and his assistants: Coach Herrin, Coach Broom, Coach England, Coach Williams, and Coach Lamoureaux. The fine team aroused much spirit and interest in the town and represented both LSHS and Lexington in a fine manner. Joey Browder summed up the Jacket's season by saying, "Teamwork and enthusiasm have made my last year on the LSHS Varsity Football Team the greatest ever."

The 1975-76 Jacket basketball team plunged into the South Piedmont Conference competition this year with a lack of experience. The team consisted of only three seniors; the rest of the players were either juniors or sophomores. Guards Mark Hess, Steve Brown, and Paul Thomas all performed well. They were flanked most of the time by Waldon Boger, Maurice Tate, or Jay Helvey. Mike Perry, Danny Fuller, and Robin Williams split most of the time at the post position. Coach Vinnon Williams kept his boys in shape and felt that even with the lack of experience, they could give anyone a fight. The experience these young players acquired should prove valuable in the coming years . . .

The 1975-76 lady Jackets were hit hard by graduation, but still retained some experience in Charlene Woods, Phylis Dalton, and Cynthia Crowell. The Jackets, under the direction of new Coach Susan Smith, hoped to improve upon their past records. The ladies seemed to be more aggressive this year. The fact that they were still a relatively new team, however, still seems to be hampering them. The Jackets did get some promising recruits from the lower grades. Two sophomores who played good ball were Lisa Abrams and Lisa Peoples. The girls have shown steady improvement since L.S.H.S. began girl's basketball, and this year, we hope, was the base for a future championship group.

Wrestling

Coached by Wes Lamoureaux, the 1975-76 grappling team was an outstanding force in the South Piedmont Conference. Since they worked consistently and painfully for their success, a wrestler running around in a sweat suit, trying to make weight, became a common sight at L.S.H.S. Familiar, also, were the newly introduced shirts, "The Man" and "The Turkey." Headed by seniors James Saunders, Joey Browder, Leslie Stevenson, and captain David Ochoa, the wrestling team presented fine matches which promoted tremendous fan interest. Such support should continue to help the L.S.H.S. wrestling teams of the future.

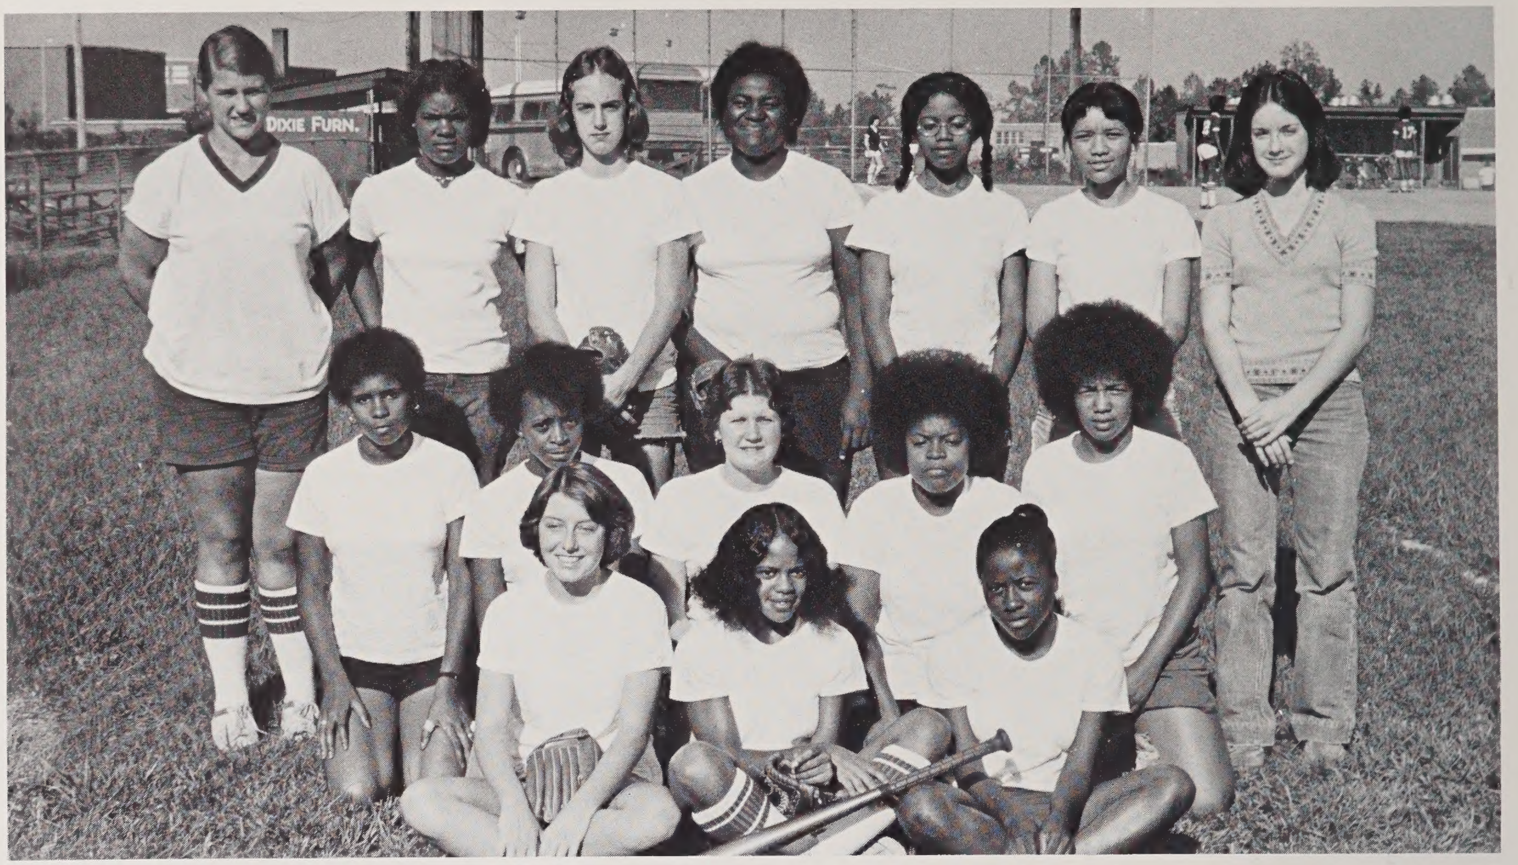
Girl's Softball



The girls at Lexington High were offered girl's softball this year for the first time, and promptly responded by taking the conference crown. The girl's posted a 9-1 record. Among the players who contributed to the team were Phylis Dalton, Myra Saunders, Cathy Allred, Charlene Woods, and Donna Saunders. Miss Smith did a commendable job with the team. All-conference performers were Cathy Allred, Phylis Dalton, Charlene Woods, Sheila Frazier, and Lenora Bobo.

Baseball

The Yellow Jackets entered the 1976 season with a solid team. Led by seniors Brent Carrickhoff, Sam Maphis, and Tim McCarn, the team looked forward to a fine year.. Others who contributed to the team were Bart Millison, Kyle Brown, Jimmy Cates, and Maurice Tate.

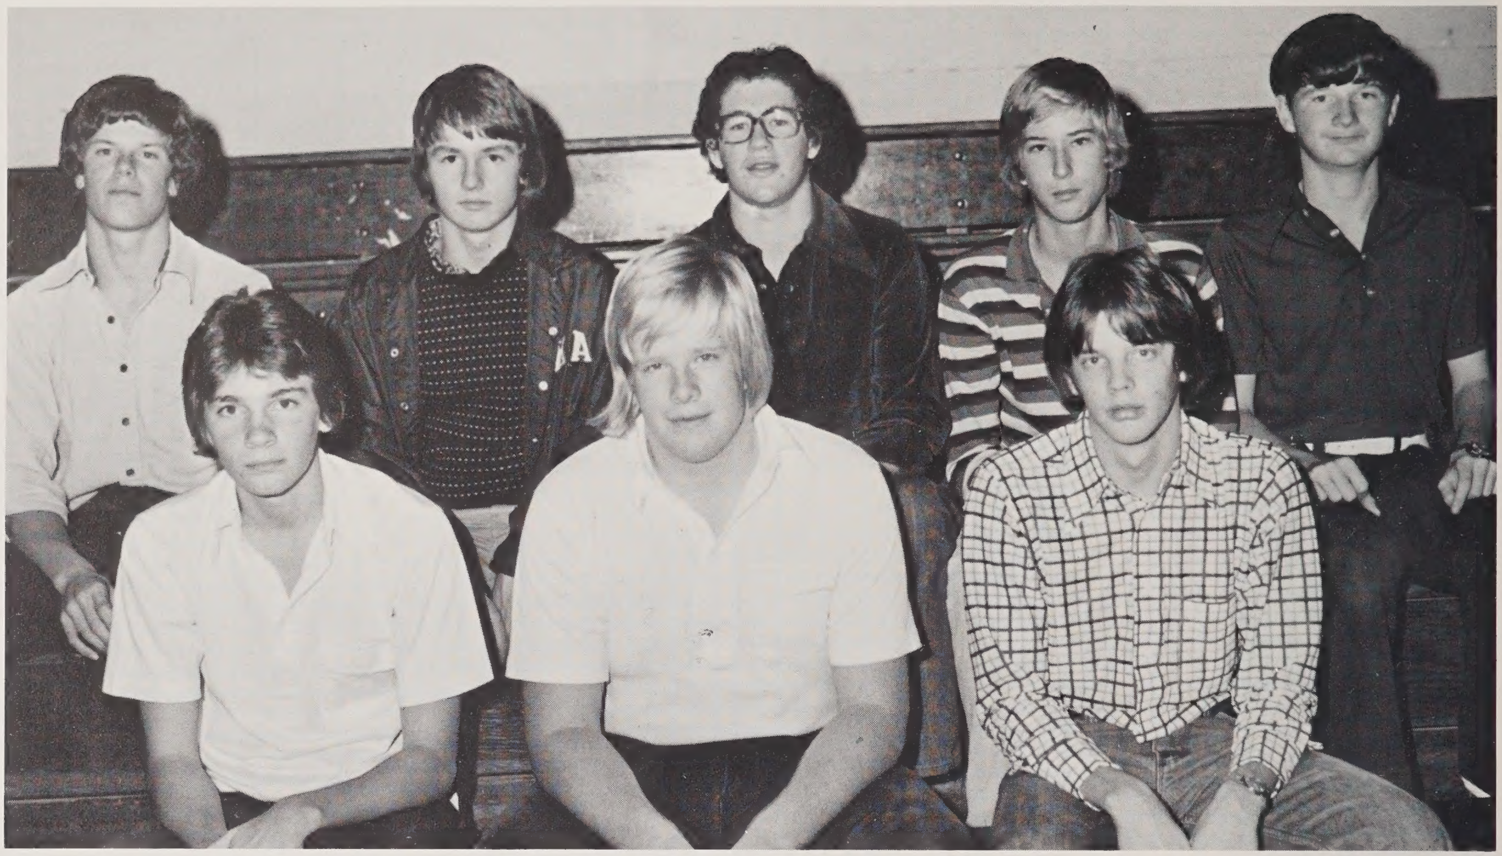
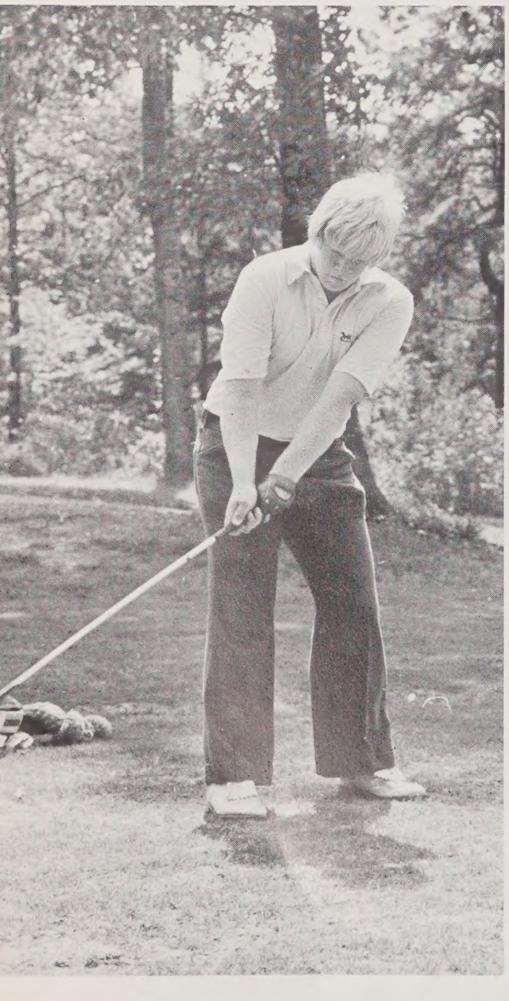
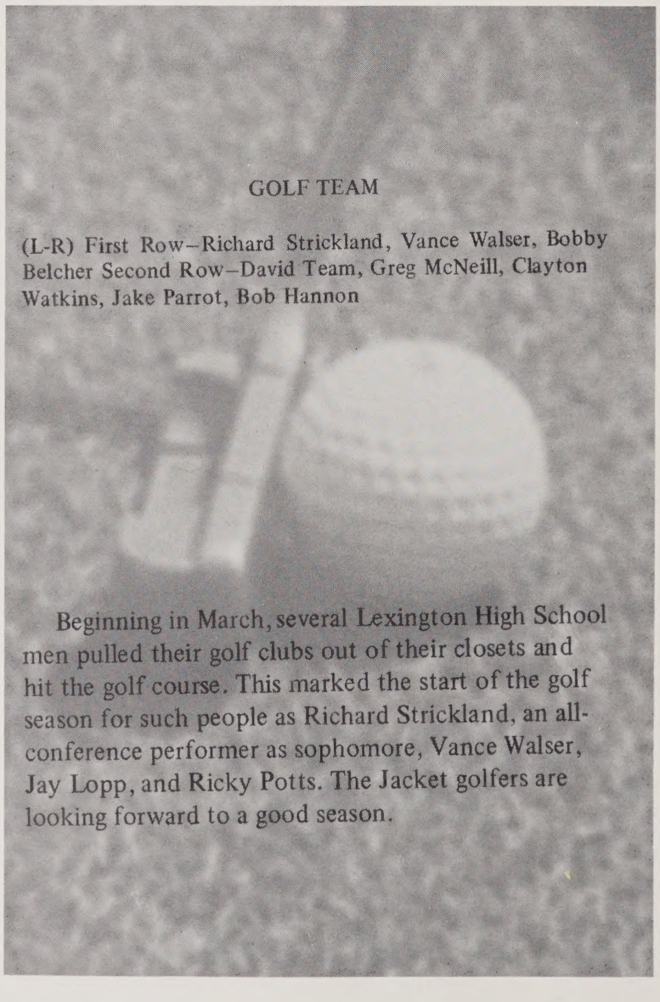
Golf







GOLF TEAM

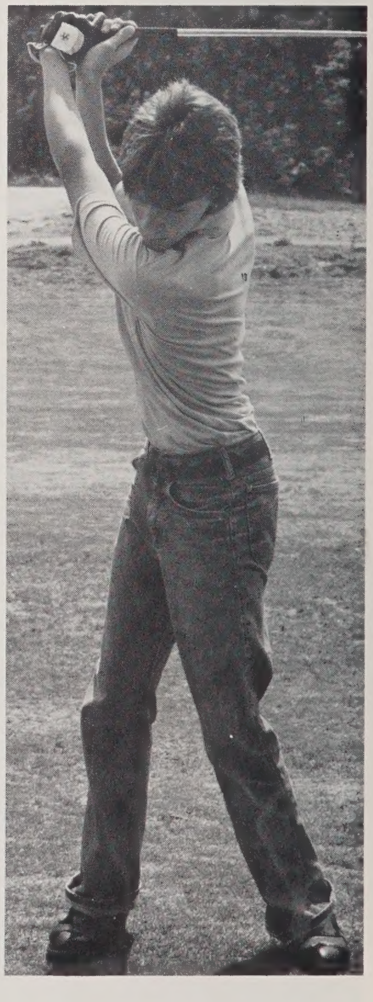
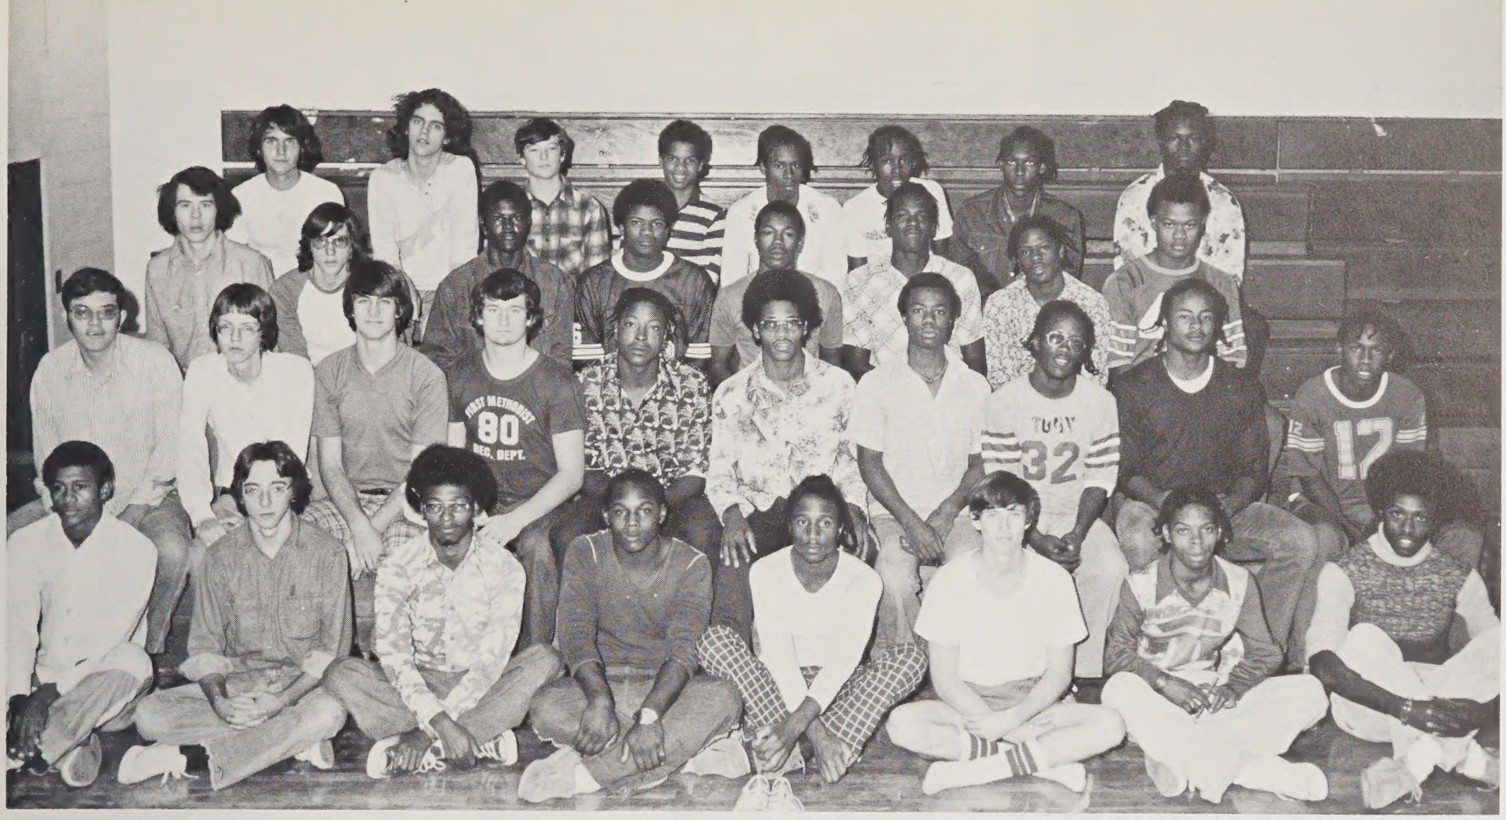
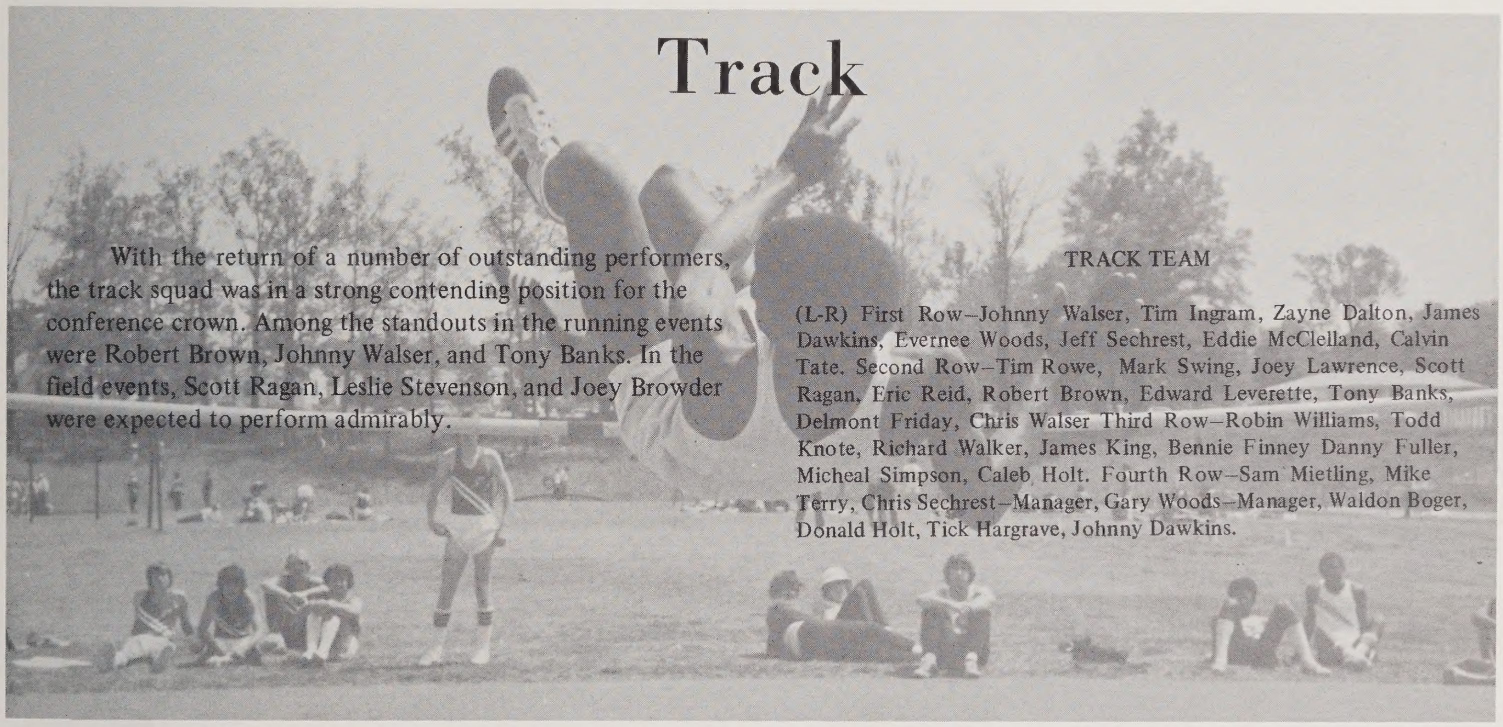
Beginning in March, several Lexington High School men pulled their golf clubs out of their closets and hit the golf course. This marked the start of the golf season for such people as Richard Strickland, an all-conference performer as sophomore, Vance Walser, Jay Lopp, and Ricky Potts. The Jacket golfers are looking forward to a good season.





Track



With the return of a number of outstanding performers, the track squad was in a strong contending position for the conference crown. Among the standouts in the running events were Robert Brown, Johnny Walser, and Tony Banks. In the field events, Scott Ragan, Leslie Stevenson, and Joey Browder were expected to perform admirably.

BOY'S TENNIS

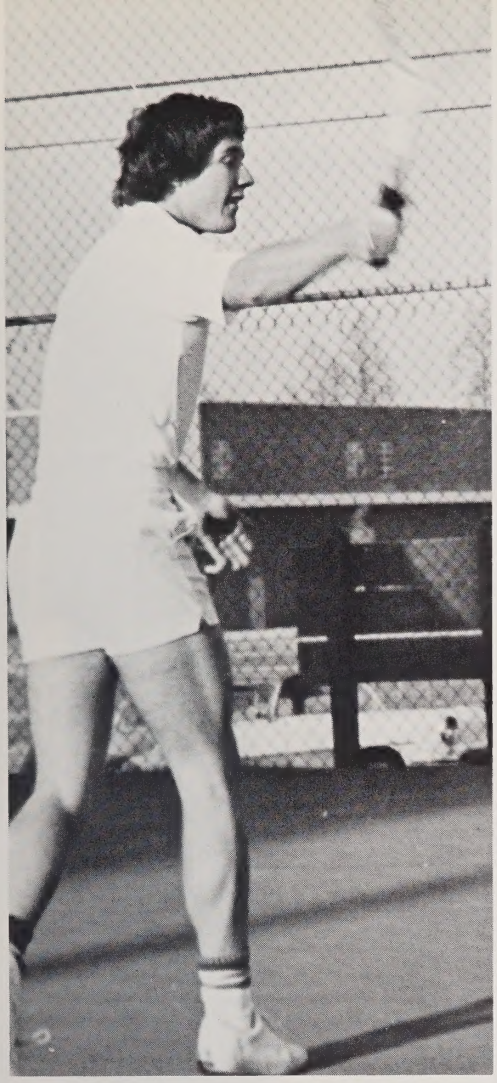
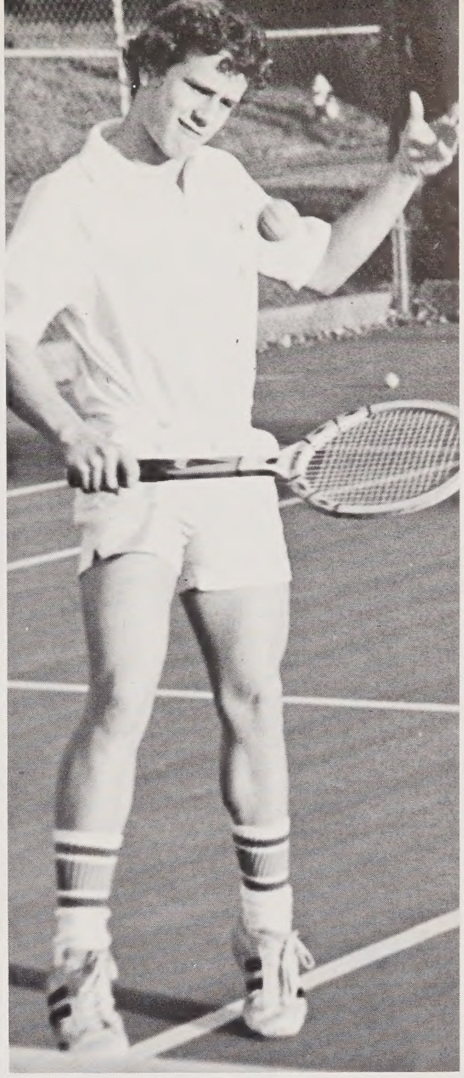
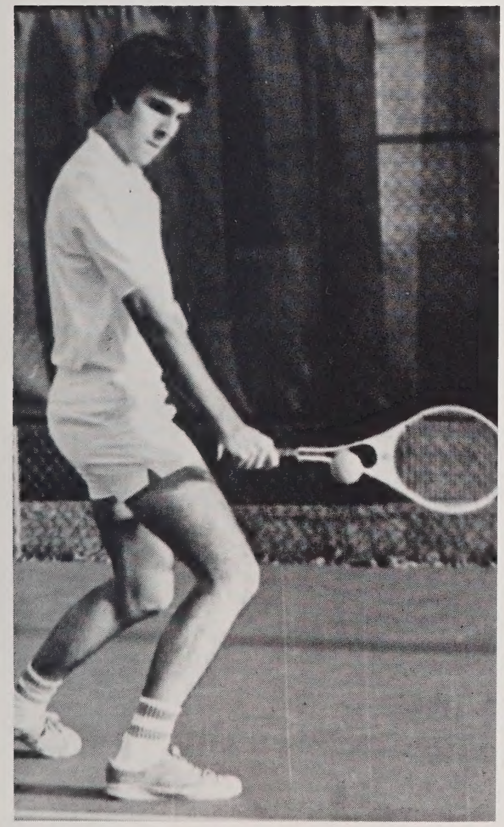
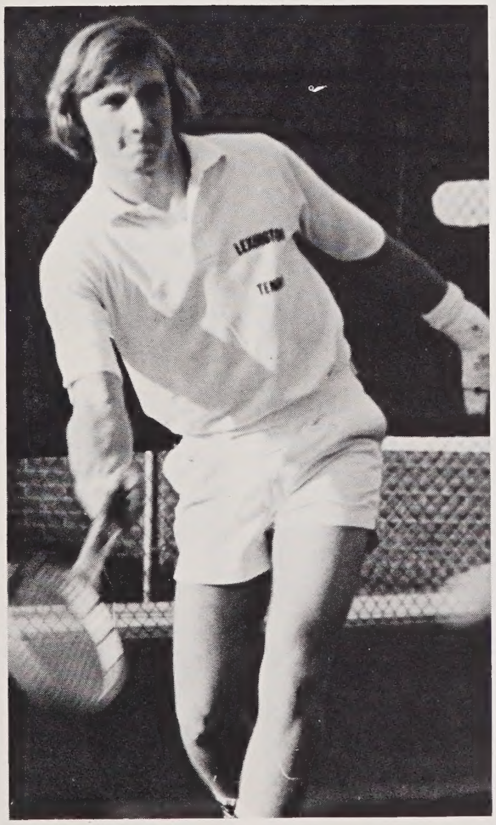
The Jacket netmen entered the 1976 season under the direction of a new coach, Parks Easter. Knowledgable of the game, he brought experience and enthusiasm to help the cause. With returning players - Brad Rittersporn, Mark Hess, Ed Jordan, Jay Kepley, David Sheppard, and David Welborn - plus several sophomores, the Jackets promised to be contenders for the S.P.C. title.

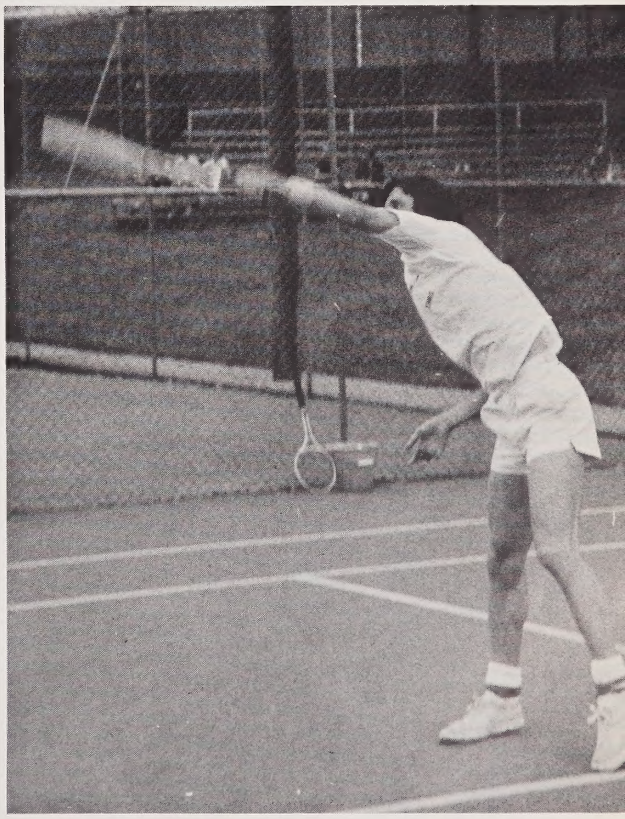




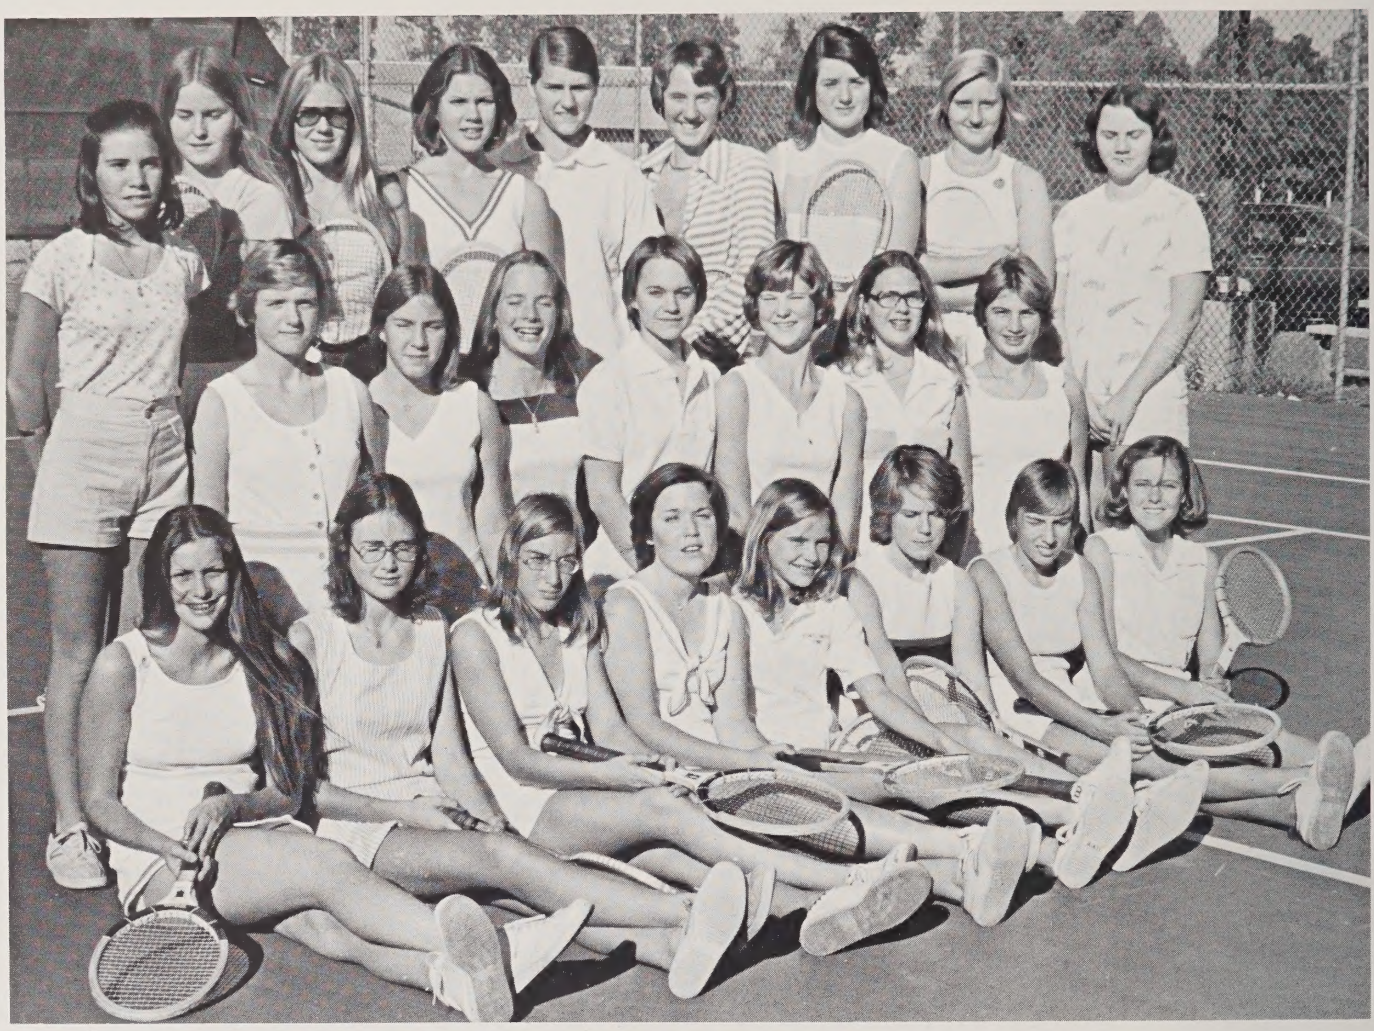




LEXINGTON



Girl's Tennis



The 1975-76 lady netters entered the season with high hopes of a conference championship. Ellen Easter was expected to lead the Jackets by trying to defend her association championship. Other girls that promised to play a big role in the team's success were Sandy Coles, V.V. Hartzog, Karen Grogan, Ann Strader, and Carolyn Walser. The team was under the new direction of Miss Susan Smith.

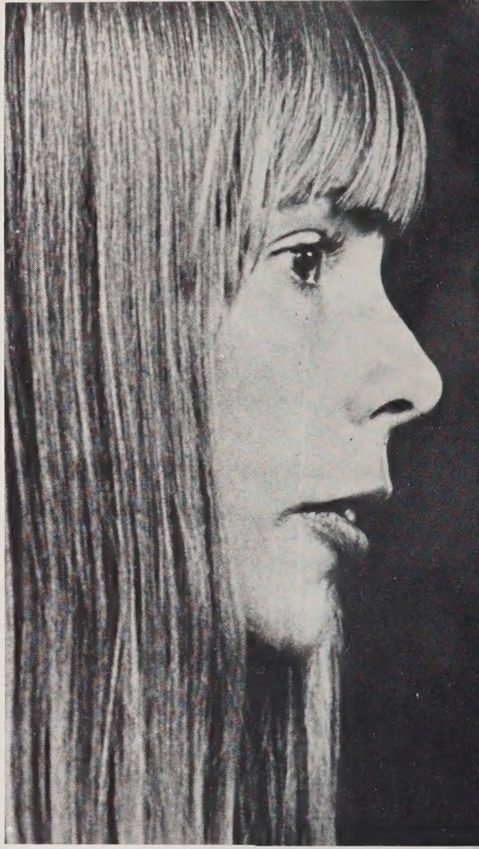
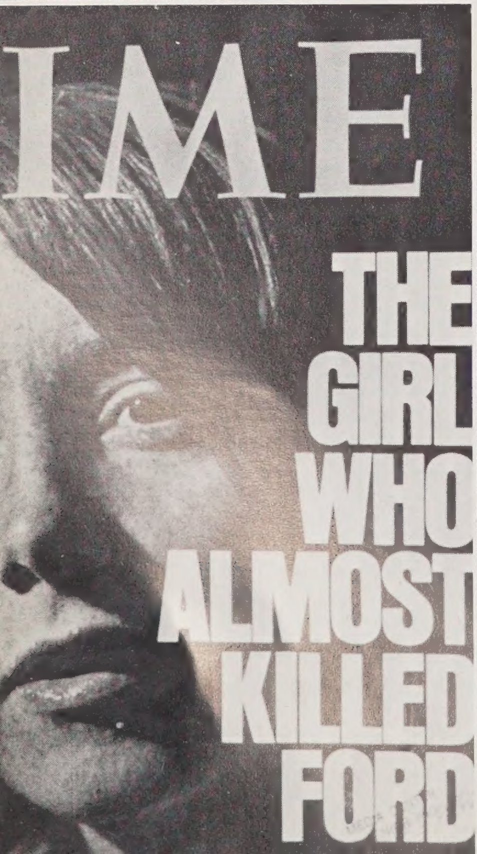
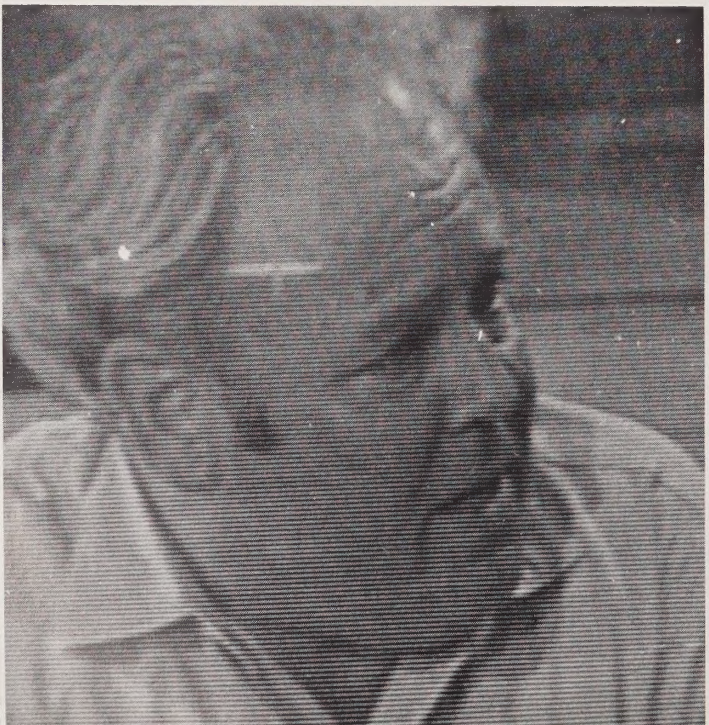
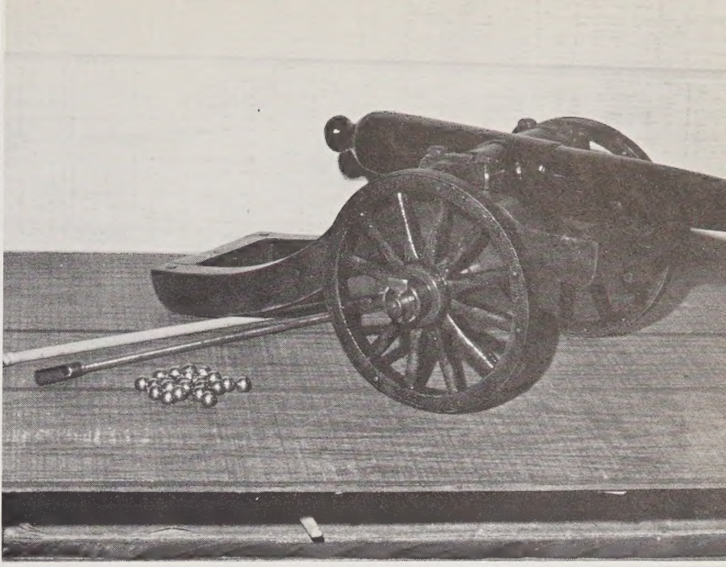
High School is indeed a sort of microcosm. At times it seems that our whole lives are tied up with school. But believe it or not, there are a multitude of things going on in the world. As proof we offer a number of significant events of this past school year . . . recall . . . . Ford falling down . . . Jaws . . . The "Fonz" . . . "Do the Hustle" . . . more bicentennial (groan) . . mood rings . . . "We eat chere quite often" . . . pet rocks . . . "Love Will Keep Us Together" . . . Monty Python (lovely plumage) . . . All My Children (sigh) . . . the 13 million dollar couple . . . Welcome Back Kotter . . . Pittsburgh does it (again) . . . Miller introduces "Lite" . . . Schlitz counters with "Light" . . . Miller counters with lawsuit . . . Charles Manson . . . Tesh unseats Smith . . . "What the hell does fie mean?" . . . Agatha Cristie leaves us . . . "2 all beef patties special sauce" (well you know) . . . glitter socks . . . The SLA and Patty Hearst . . . Dog Day Afternoon . . . Jack Ford and John Denver toke . . . Beach Boys . . . say Hello Hardee's . . . Lexington says Hello to Mac Donalds . . . Cincinnati slides by Boston . . . Black Jack . . . Helter Skelter . . . . Sara Jane Moore . . . Hiatt arrives with a bang . . . The Young and the Restless . . . Rod Stewart . . . the draft ends . . . Sanford drops out (Everyone else stays in) . . . Ford falls down (again) . . . Fred Lynn cops it all . . . Earth, Wind and Fire . . . digital watches . . . Young Frankenstein . . . the Rowan 500 to Click and Betty's . . . Euell Gibbons bites dust (couldn't resist) . . . Fleetwood Mac . . . Barreta . . .



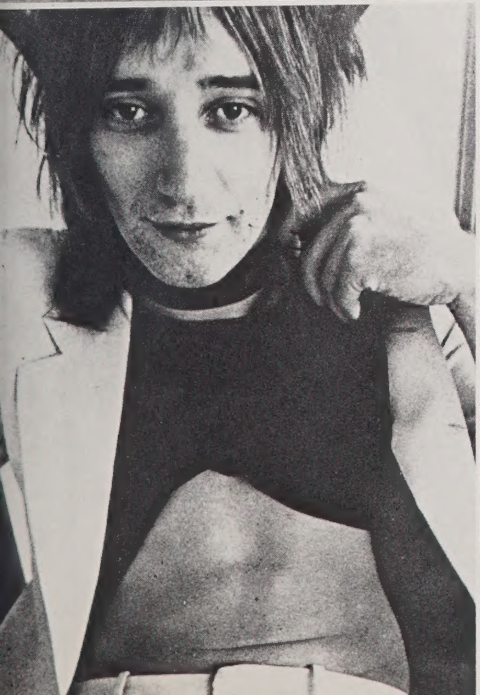


IME
THE GIRL WHO ALMOST KILLED FORD





Nights On Broadway . . . Dixie Darlings . . . Meow—Meow—Meow . . . Ralph Nader and the LPD . . . Franco dies . . . turquoise jewelry . . . KC and the Sunshine Band . . . The Rockford Files . . . Macbeth Did It (what?) . . . Sedaka's Back! (what for?) . . . LEVI'S LEVI'S LEVI'S . . . The Alibi . . . Jive Talking . . . Rolling Stones . . . Angola . . . Apollo—Soyuez . . . Let's hear it for Détente . . . Cher's back, with (any ideas?) . . . New York takes a dive . . . "Tommy" . . . Ralph Nader visits . . . Charlie Brown turns 25 . . . Mary Tyler Moore calls it quits . . . The Midnight Sun . . . Mercy sakes looks like we got us a convoy . . . Starsky and Hutch . . . The Who in Greensboro . . . Mahogany . . . The master, Jack Benny, dies . . . The Waffle House . . . The Mayaguez . . . Boston buses (tries, at least) . . . Space 1999 . . . 50 Ways to Leave your um uh, (what was that Toby?) . . . Kojak . . . Ford goes to China (reason unknown) . . . CB's . . . Hanes Mall . . . Deep Throat (this is the final week) . . . Rocky steps aside . . . Squeaky Fromme . . . Captain and Tenhille . . . Susan Ford—liberated woman . . . "Hell Juanito!" . . . Coors moves east . . . Springsteen—Born to Run . . . goooooooooooood cracker . . . Gatsby hits T. V. . . . New massage parlor is "Top Notch" (sorry again) . . . Ryan's Hope . . . Mel Brooks . . . Woody Allen turns 40 . . . Saturday Night Live . . . The Carolina Disco . . . One of These Nights . . . Chicago . . . Thorton Wilder dies, (we lose a great one) . . . Jeeps . . . Dante faints . . . The list could go on and on, but everything has to have an end. And where is that end? Why hanging in Mr. Cranford's room of course.



Time it was,
And what a time it was,
It was . . .
A time of innocence,
A time of confidences,
Long ago it must be,
I have a photograph,
Preserve your memories . . .
They're all that's left you.
